

Orange is an open source data visualization and analysis tool. It is user friendly as it provides a separate IDE. It features a visual programming front end for explorative data analysis and interactive data visualization.

The tool has components for machine learning , add-ons for better forecasting and it is also packed with exclusive features for data analytics.

License

GPL 3.0

Developed by

University of Ljubljana, Slovenia

Written in

Python, C, C++, Cython

URL

<https://orange.biolab.si>